Seattle is best known for the iconic Space Needle and the bustling farmer's market on Pike Place. But there's another side to the city – and it's one that only the locals know.

Seattle native Carolyn is taking us around her city, showing us all the hidden gems and secrets that Seattle has to offer, rain or shine. From authentic lunch spots to extraordinary sculpture parks and coveted boutiques, there's plenty about Seattle to take advantage of.

Watch the video above to learn about some of the city's hidden gems! You might want to take notes for your next big trip out west.
